

DocumentsCorePack the essential tool for smooth business processes

Realia Group is the largest provider of expert services specialising in the brokerage and management services of apartments, properties and commercial facilities in the Nordic countries. The company's vision is to offer a better living and real estate wealth to its customers and find them the best solutions in all questions related to apartments and properties.

The competitiveness of the Realia Group consists of strong brands, motivated and competent employees as well as the ability and the will to invest in working methods and processes of the future.

Microsoft Dynamics 365 has been the best fit for the company's business needs when it comes to managing a large number of real estate. However, since the document generation feature was not fully sufficient for this case, running and facilitating meetings with housing companies produced a lot of information in form of traditional documents.

Looking for a reliable document automation and generation solution, Realia Group found DocumentsCorePack to be the best tool, which was highly recommended by one of their IT partners.

The story...

Challenges

- The document generation features of the standard solution are insufficient
- Lots of meetings with property companies lead to time-consuming manual handling of documents
- Information were still produced and consumed in form of traditional documents

Our solution

- DocumentsCorePack is the #1 solution for fast and simple document generation, processing and automation.

Customer benefits

- Increased productivity in generating meeting documents
- Automated process of document management
- Reliability, simple adaption, good value for money
- Worktime savings up to one hour per meeting

At-a-glance:

Customer: Realia Group

Website: www.realiagroup.fi

Customer Size: 1500 employees

Country: Finland (100 locations), Sweden and Baltics

Industry: Property Services

Core business : Build and sale single-family homes

Challenges

As one of the largest provider of expert services specialising in the Property Services industry in the Nordic countries, Realia Group has to manage a large number of real estate. For the company's business processes, Microsoft Dynamics 365 has been the best fit.

However, since the document generation feature was not fully sufficient for this case, running and facilitating meetings with housing companies produced a lot of information in form of traditional documents.

On the search for a reliable document automation solution, Realia Group found DocumentsCorePack to be the best tool, which was highly recommended by one of their IT partners.

Our solution

When it comes to working with third party providers like mscrm-addons.com, reliability, simple adaption and good value for money are the key factors for Realia Group.

Since the installation of DocumentsCorePack by the company, an increased productivity and the reduction of time were the result.

The automated process of document generation from templates and Dynamics 365 data resulted in time savings up to an hour per meeting.

The company would recommend to everyone to at least test our solution and see for themselves.

“We have found DocumentCorePack helping us accelerating the development work in the project and now it is an essential tool for us making the business process running smoothly. We are happy with our choice!”

Harri Karjalainen, CIO

Contact Us:

office@mscrm-addons.com
+43 316 680 880

Learn More

 <https://www.mscrm-addons.com/>

Gold Application Development
Silver Cloud Platform